

PAX to Unveil Android Payment Innovations at Money 20/20

(Hong Kong, PRC, 5 June 2017) PAX Global Technology Limited ("PAX", HKSE stock code: 00327.HK), a global leader in the provision of secure electronic payment terminal solutions, is pleased to unveil a suite of new Android based integrated retail solutions in Copenhagen on June 26 at the Money 20/20 Europe.

The E-Series portfolio are new generation workstations which replace old fashioned cash register equipment to allow merchants to improve and modernize retail checkout areas. Each E-Series model guarantees faster customer service and better business management by combining core retail elements such as payment device, receipt printer and merchant & customer facing tablet computers, into a single elegant housing unit with small desktop footprint.

The PAXPAY payment gateway service will also be on show, which designed specifically for new forms of mobile transactions such as Alipay, WeChat Pay and QR Codes.

Mr. Jack Lu, CEO of PAX, said, "We will be delighted to share our insights into the future of payment at the world's largest financial technology event - Money 2020 Europe. We believe PAX's Android based payment terminals and new generation cash register type solutions are a step toward reshaping and improving the global retail market."
