

PAX's Android Payment Solutions debut at Money 20/20

(Hong Kong, PRC, 28 June 2017) PAX Global Technology Limited("PAX", HKSE stock code: 00327.HK), a global leader in the provision of secure electronic payment terminal solutions, received industry wide recognition with its new Android based integrated retail solutions at Money 20/20 in Copenhagen, one of the world's largest financial technology events.

The E-Series suite of Smart POS-ECR workstations generated huge interest, as they provided a glimpse into the future of merchant retailing. The E500 and E800 models from PAX enable merchants to achieve faster customer throughput and offer better business management by combining core retail peripherals and payment into a single elegant housing unit with small desktop footprint, powered by Android technology.

Mr. Andrew Wu, Vice president of PAX, said, "This is the first time that PAX exhibited at Money 20/20 Europe, and we were delighted by the show's turnout and the high levels of interest in new generation of Android payment solutions."

Mr. Jack Lu, CEO of PAX, concluded, "PAX continues to expand and diversify its solution offering so that we can continue to lead the payment terminal industry by providing real value-added solutions for our many global partners and customers. We see huge potential for new generation cash register solutions, such as our E-Series, for the global retail market."
