

Merchant demand for Android payment terminals confirmed, as PAX becomes the first payment industry vendor to obtain PagoBANCOMAT approval in Italy

(PRC and Hong Kong, 21st June 2018) PAX Global Technology Limited (HKSE stock code: 00327.HK), one of the world's leading electronic payment terminals solutions providers, recently announced in Italy that PagoBANCOMAT certification has been granted for the A920 Android payment terminal.

The A920 represents the cutting-edge of PAX's ever expanding product portfolio, a beautifully designed touchscreen terminal with inbuilt cameras, PIN-on-glass functionality, and with full contactless and PCI 5.x certifications.

Marco Rizzoli, Italy Country Manager of PAX, said: "PAX really has an incredible product portfolio, including SmartPOS and SmartECR terminals which give acquiring banks the immediate capability to deploy merchant solutions that deliver unprecedented user experience and which cater to the ever-changing needs of the payment industry."

Andrea Zucchiatti, CTO of PAX, added: "With simple app-to-app integration through PAXSTORE, a market leading open-platform marketplace, it is now possible for Italian merchants to download useful business apps into their Android payment terminals. "

PAX is the first terminal provider in Italy to certify the national PagoBANCOMAT payment solution based on the Android terminal platform, a strategic move which further cements PAX's position as the most dynamic player in the electronic payment terminal industry.
